Pennsylvania identifies 38,823 children and youth who experienced homelessness

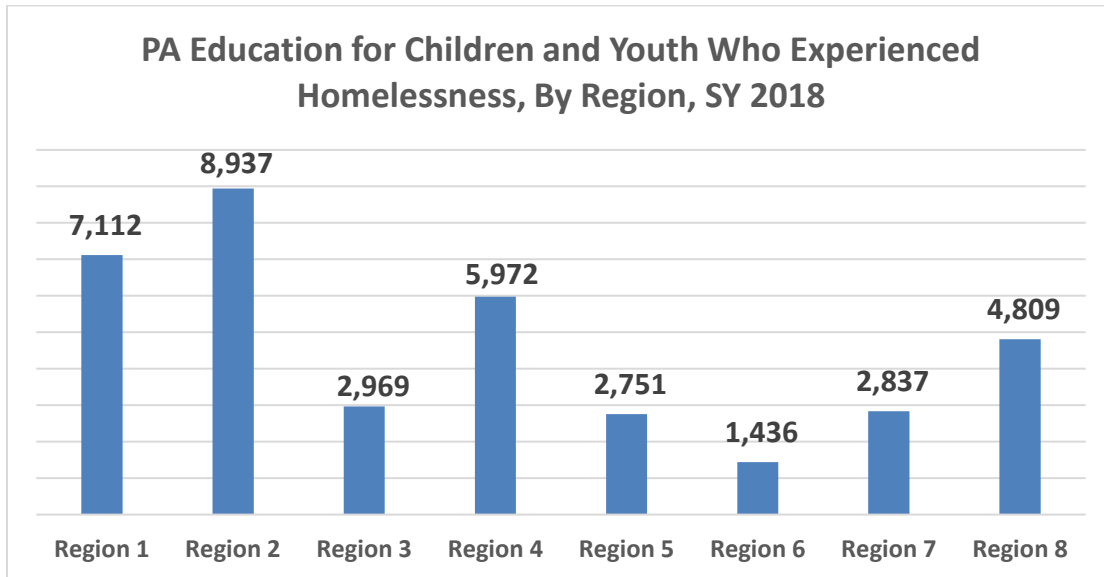

New reports from the Pennsylvania Department of Education identified its largest number ever of children and youth who experienced homelessness – 38,823!

The number includes children under the age of five and youth enrolled in pre-K through grade 12.

This count is based on where the child or youth was identified as homeless and attributed to the entity (shelter, early intervention, pre-K program, etc.) or local education agency (LEA) (school districts, charters/cyber schools, technical schools).

PEC reviewed the Pennsylvania Department of Education’s reports entitled “2017-18 Education for Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness (ECYEH) Unique and Duplicate Counts by Entity,” and “2017-18 Education of Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness (ECYEH) Unique and Duplicate Counts by County,” summarizing key data points below (but not all). Find the original reports here: <http://bit.ly/2T49E97>. In addition, PEC used data from the American Fact Finder database of the U.S. Census to determine the rate of students experiencing homelessness to all children in a county.

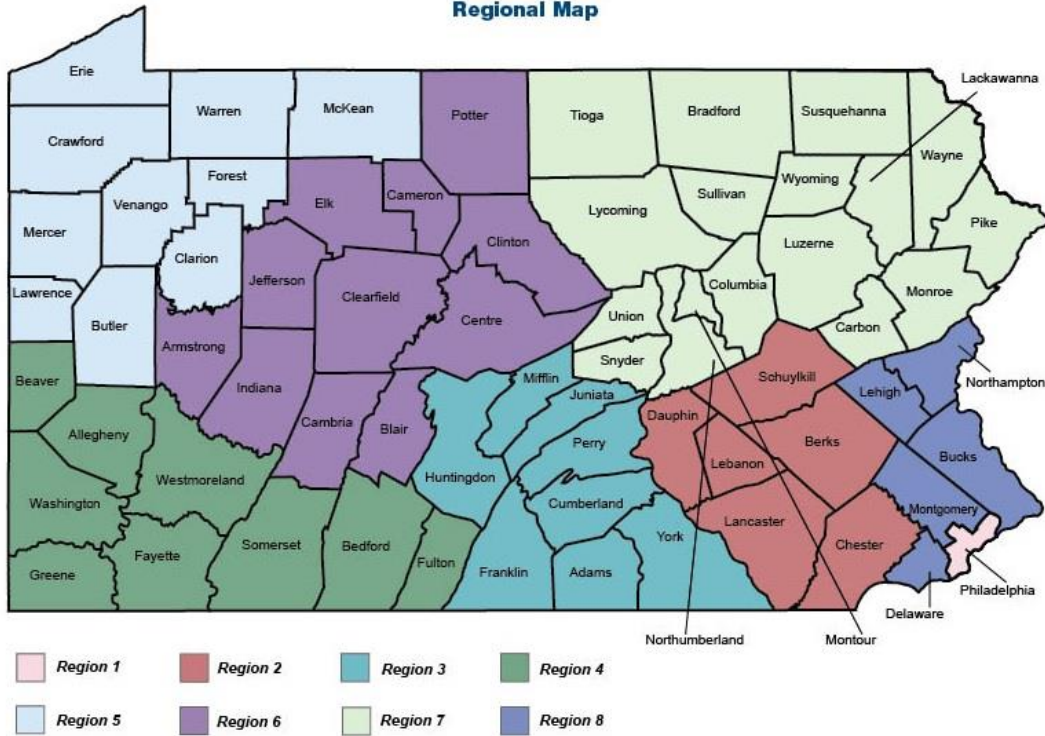

In this summary report:

- Highlights
- Number of children and youth experiencing homelessness by the PA Department of Education’s (PDE) 8 regions, by school district, and by county
- Rate of homelessness among children Map of PDE’s regions
- Numbers of children and youth in shelters or in early intervention services and who were identified by the education system.

Who Should Read This? Policy makers and their staff, funders, youth-serving agencies including county human services, school personnel, family advocates and others are encouraged to understand the data and consider expanding efforts to reach out to children and youth who experience homelessness.

Pennsylvania's Education for Children and Youth Experiencing Homelessness Program

Regional Map

Highlights:

- The data suggests that homelessness of children and youth is increasing.
- Perhaps, surprisingly, Philadelphia is not the largest region identifying homeless students. Region 2 identified 8,937 compared to Philadelphia's 7,112.
- Four school districts identified more than one thousands homeless students. They are Allegheny, Lancaster, Philadelphia, and Reading.
- Three school districts – Harrisburg, Lebanon, and York - identified from 500 to 999 homeless students.
- Thirty-one school districts, including several charters, identified between 100 and 499 homeless students.
 - The charters are Agora Cyber Charter (Chester), Belmont (Philadelphia), Chester Community Charter (Delaware), and PA Cyber Charter (Beaver).
- Pennsylvania's rate of homeless students compared to all Pennsylvania children under 18 is 1.4 percent.
 - Dauphin County has the highest rate of homeless students compared to all children in the county. Union county has the lowest.

- 14 counties are above the state average with Berks, Clarion, Dauphin, Lancaster, Lebanon, McKean, and Philadelphia over 2 percent. Berks, Dauphin, Lancaster, and Lebanon are in Region 2.
 - 5 counties are at or below 0.5 percent: Greene, Huntingdon, Pike, Tioga, and Union.
 - 44 counties are below the state average. 14 counties are above the statewide average.
- Note: the ECYEH report does not comment on its data collection or discuss how the data might influence ECYEH operations.

^^ This number is different from the total numbers by Region due to reporting guidelines.

- The report included numbers of children and youth who were identified in shelters or in early intervention services. These numbers are included in the overall total number.
 - A total of 5,362 were identified in shelter, or 15% of the total.
 - A total of 705 were identified in Early Intervention, or 2% of the total. Not all regions reported early intervention data.
